Seriously Scrapbooking Classes and pop up shop will be in my home
If you wish to shop or pop in and say hello, then please ring first and check that I am at home. You will also need to book into classes to save a seat.

Hello Everyone and Happy New Year.

It has been over a year since I closed the doors on Seriously Scrapbooking in Colonel Light Gardens. I have had 2 new grandchildren arrive and am enjoying being a Grammy. Finally I have set up the largest room in my home as a workshop/shop and I can very comfortably fit 12 people in at a time along with paper racks and stands full of the beautiful scrapbooking supplies I stocked in our store at Colonel Light Gardens. I have been holding 2 full day + late night scraps a month on Fridays along with a great selection of classes from Karyn Shultz and me – Jane Tregenza on Saturdays. Karyn and I still have room for a few more, and would love you to join us. Kathy Lang is still teaching card classes on a Monday once a month and has a lovely group of ladies who would love to have some extra people in their group. I have included the time table and descriptions of all our classes in this newsletter. This year is going to be a big year for us. Starting with a huge two day sale on Friday the 18th and Saturday 19th January. I have booked the large hall at the Cumberland Community Centre - 388-390 Goodwood Rd Cumberland Park. It is where we held classes last year, but we will be in the main hall and not our smaller purple room.

I have put more information in the newsletter about the sale.

Then in February I am doing a cruise with Unmistakable creations, I know it is late notice but they still have room for more. So please contact them if you can join us. I have put a flyer in the newsletter with more information. I am making a mini junk album- travelled themed and it looks amazing.

I will also be teaching at the Brisbane scrapbooking and papercraft expo in June. I am very excited to be there. I only go every second year due to another commitment the other year in June. I have started planning my classes, so keep in touch. I would love to catch up with you all in one of my classes With Kate my youngest daughter and helper having a baby in 2018, new kits of my work fell in a heap. The good news is that while I didn't release any kits during the year, I did get 15 new ones on the website last week. They are under 'New in Store'. I still have over 40 projects done, kitted up and ready to go. All are just waiting on instructions. A couple of weeks ago, Kate and I spent a morning together and she was able to get 25 new kits on our website Seriously Scrapbooking – under What's New. Since then I have been working on more kits and have three new project life style Graphic 45 kits done. I will have them on the website next week. With another 2 nearly finished. Then it is patchwork pieces – I have another 4 ready to go, They will go on the website next week.

The Raining Cats and Dogs book and caddy is pretty much finished. It is going off to a friend who will make it following Kate and mine instructions. Once this is done – then it is ready to go and I will contact everyone who fill in an expression of interest form or email me.

For the rest of this year I will be releasing new kits as they are ready to go, so please keep in touch as all our kits have limited numbers available and once sold out can't be repeated.

In regards to my classes held here in Adelaide, I will be adding in some new classes as the year goes by. I have a two and a half day workshop planned for a new book + a couple of new projects I want to teach.

The junk journal classes have been great fun and there has been a lot of interest in starting from the beginning with a new group. The difference between my junk journal and an art journal is the photos. I like making my books to have meaning so doing each page for someone, adding photos and personal journaling is important to me. I love the art journals but a personal journal is more practical and something I can pass on to the family. You get to do all the wonderful mixed media techniques and can add your photos and personal journaling after.

Well that's it from me for now, hopefully one of our many classes will suite you and I will see you in a class soon, or at our sale or on the cruise or at the All Day Scrap, it doesn't matter but please make it soon.

Once again Happy New Year—may 2019 be the best year yet and all your plans for this year go without any hitches.

On Behalf of Karyn, Kathy and Kate.

Hugs

Jane
